The Constitution Annual.

We have long seen the need of a reprint in convenient form for binding, by which valuable documents appearing in the newspapers from time to time may be preserved in the Library in ornamental as well as easily accessible shape for reference. Such documents often appear, which may prove of great service in the future, and yet do not find their way into book or library form. Many public men have spoken to us on the subject. No later than last night a Senator informed us that he was delighted with our idea and would promptly avail himself of the plury. From all quarters in Georgia come atrong appeals against the restoration of usury law. The press is speaking net it with almost entire unanimity. We find the following terse presentation of the subject in the Sparts Times and lanter:

"A usury law is upjust, it always was and always will be. All exchangeable values ought to stand upon a perfect footing of equality regulated as to what they are worth only by the laws of supply and demand There are no Usury laws in Pennsylvania and there money can be had at 7 per cent. while in Great Britain, where usury laws were found to act unjustly and harshly, money can be commanded easily at from to 5 per cent.

There is no disputing the proposition that money is a fluctuating commodity; like cotton, corn and merchandise its value varies ecording to supply and demand and there s no more sense or reason in saying that corn shall not be sold at more than a dollar per bushel, than that money shall be worth only seven per cent."

Vineland, New Jersey, has enjoyed the novelty of a "Dress Reform Convention." The models for the proposed change were seated on a platform. They were nine in number. Each wore a "tunic"—and panalouty. This hill does not possess sufficient elastic properties and the amount will be stretched to $500,000,000 at least—the inflationists being in a model to the properties of the properties o in number. Each wore a "tunic"—and pantalons. They looked, we are sorry to say, like Japanese. Neither was the meeting entirely harmonious. At one time a lady called in the usual style came forward and showed her old black silk dress which she bought nine years ago, hinting pretty forcibly that some of the laking prants on the platform spent more money and showed. platform spent more money and showed more vanity in their reform dress than she did. One Mrs. Butler fared badly. She was convicted of that vanity, an overskirt.

Mrs. Butler came forward. She wanted to know what was going to be the end of all to know what was going to be the end of all the talking. Was any woman going to take off one inch of her dress?

Mrs. Duffy—I have taken off two inches of mine. (Laughter.)

Mrs. Butler.—I am glad to hear of it. But, after all, what is going to be the result?

Inflation will not meet with as much favor in the Senate as in the House, though the pressure from the South and West is prought against Senators as well as members from those sections.

Abuse Is Not Argument.

The people at large know very little of the manner in which some of the advocates of a Convention have contended for the attainment of their object. As a specimen we clip a few paragraphs from the last Union and Recorder of Milledgeville . "It is very plain that the begus bondholders and the Atlanta ring are running the same schedule."

"The Atlanta 1 ing wants the Legislature to legislate for Atlanta, not for the people of the State," Again, in an article headed "Look to the Senate," it proceeds to say: Senate," it proceeds to say:

"Among the practical Atlantese they have a proverb that those whom the ring intend to use they first feast at Pease's and then make them drunk. This bting understood the announcement that the Senate were invited by one of the Atlanta ring to sup with Pease and his wife was starting intelligence to all who want a Consti-utional Convention. Well might the Savannah News exclaim "Let the friends of removal tremble, the Senate are invited to sup with Pease and his wife to-night." It understood why they were invited in the invitations were given out. Still Leaving.

Our people, both white and colored, are still leaving some sections of the State in large numbers. The Atlanta Constitution recently reported the passage of five hundred in one day through that city on their way West. What means this hepira? Georgia is, or ought to be, one of the best States in the Union.

These people are dissatisfied with their changed condition and conclude that they can do better elsewhere. Georgia's condition is far better than that of Alabama, tion is far better than that of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas or Texas. Why, then, go there? Simply for change; and it is a change for the worse.

We are pleased to know that the drain from Northeast Georgia has ceased. With its avenue and properties railroad facilities. its present and prospective railroad facilities, it is destined to become the garden-spot of the State.—Athens Watchman.

THE WEST VIRGINIA MEMBERS THE FREE BANKING BILL -CAR-PENTER ON LOUISIANA-GORDON, OF GEORGIA, ON REVENUE STAMPS,

WASHINGTON, January 23.—An examina-tion of the Congressional Record regarding the West Virginia election case shows that Davis is Democrat and Hagans Republican. Waddell of North Carolina voted for Davis, but not for Hagans. Five Democrats voted for both.

The House snubbed the Committe on Banking and Currency to day, of which Maynard is chairman, by referring his reports to the Committee of the Whole.

Attorney General Williams has gone to New York. Governor Warmoth leaves to night via New York and Disbalo Valente. He will reach New Orleans on Wednesday.

HOUSE. The Committee on Binking and Currency reported, to-day, a bill to establish free bank-ing, in cases of banks without circulation, on deposit of $10,000 in the Treasury, and di-recting the issue, every month, by the Treas-ury of $2,000,000 of United States notes, not bearing interest, and redeemable in gold in two years. The committee desired to retain control of the bill, but the House overruled the committee, and sent the bill to the Committee of the Whole.

The same committee also reported adversely to the bill proposing to establish Post-office Savings Banks, which was likewise referred to the Committee of the Whole.

Appropriations occupied the day.

BOW SHALL WE OFF THEM?

We must teach all to read and understand our literature. An intelligent reader of English books can know all that is needful. The Siste must furnib the same of mankind with the keys to unlock what is beyond. It can only be done by public schools. The Doctor proceeded to compare the system of private with public schools to the great disadvantage of the former. One is conducted for selfash ends; the other for education simply. The aim of the public school to the greatest amount of education for the smallest sum—the elements of a solid English education to the mass for the smallest possible public expendition.

P. Van Alstine, Esq., Barnesville, Ga.:

Dean Sta—You must excuse me for this outburst of praise for your invaluable mediciae, and thanks to you for placing it within my reach. Lat me tell you about it: To-night, after supper, I was attacked with a very scule pain in my right side. I had fell if coming on for several days, but it did not reach a focus until to-night, and of all intense pains, it was the worst it ever had. Having tried your Balsam before for different sliments and found it equal to any pain as I went along, and paid my last quarter for a small bottle of Jackson's Magic Balsam. It was with the greatest difficulty I reached home. The medicine was applied to the hurtiag place, and in a few minutes after the application, I took my pencil, and while I scribble these lines to you the pain has disappeared, leaving me as happy as the pain has disappeared, leaving me as happy as the pain has disappeared, leaving me as happy as the pain has disappeared, leaving me as happy as the pain has disappeared, leaving me as happy as the Balsam is efficious, and that is a great deal.

This Pill has been in use for the last thirty-five years, and has taken precedence over all other Family Preparations, by all that have used them. Thousands would certify to their great value if qecessary. One fact should supersede any amount of certificates, and that fact is this; Dr. Calhoun has ocen physician to the Fulton County Prison for over seven years, when the number of prisoners ranged from 20 to 70, laboring under all the diseases inciden to this climate. With but few exceptions, they have all been treated with this Pill, and astonialing to say, during that long period not a solitary death correct under his treatment. This fact is worth any amount of testimonials.
